

Stuart Lane

BA (Hons) and BArch, University of Manchester
ARB - Registered Architect, United Kingdom
MAPM - Member, Association for Project Management

Stuart is a registered Architect and Project Manager with a broad working knowledge of the construction industry. His experience includes working with public and private sector clients and he is familiar with the requirements and procedures of large and small organisations, both in the UK and overseas.

Since 2001 he has been providing consultancy services in design and project management, project audits and documentation reviews. This has included both leading and supporting project and design teams. He has also been appointed to address particular issues and review design and contract documentation on existing projects. He has experience in the PFI process, from pre-qualification and bid management through to the operational phase, primarily in the education, healthcare and secure facilities sectors. Stuart acted as Overall Project Manager (OPM) for an Academy in South London, catering for 1150 students and has provided Technical Advisor services on Wandsworth, Oldham, Stockton and Havering Building Schools for the Future (BSF) programmes.

Areas of expertise include:

- Project management
- Client/stakeholder liaison
- Leading and supporting project and design teams
- Chairing project meetings, ensuring they are focused and address key issues
- Establishing clear lines of communication and reporting
